Dear Cruise Director,

I am on vacation and would like to celebrate with a bottle of wine. What are the guidelines for wine tasting?

Three simple steps:

Look

White wines range from green to yellow to brown. More color typically indicates more flavor and age (but a brown wine may have gone bad). For reds, tilt your glass. A purple edge indicates youth while brown indicates maturity. Now swirl your glass. Size and speed of the streaks or "legs" indicate the wine's body and viscosity.

Smell

Swirl again and smell the aroma, also called the bouquet or nose. Common aromas are fruit, flowers, earth, wood, herbs, and spice.

Taste

Your wine should balance sweetness and acidity. Allow your initial taste to awaken your taste buds, then follow with a fuller taste to sense the wine's body and texture.

For more details ask your Server tonight.
